Campbell County to Hold Three Public Informational Meetings

-County Seeks Citizen Input on the Comprehensive Economic Development Strategy Update-

RUSTBURG, VA – The Campbell County Economic Development Commission (EDC) will host three public informational meetings on the 2007 Comprehensive Economic Development Strategy (CEDS) update. These meetings will provide citizens with an opportunity to comment on the CEDS update. The EDC wants to know what current projects citizens feel are most important. It would also like to know what other industrial/commercial activities people wish to see the County's involvement in. People can view the 2003 CEDS at <http://www.campbellvirginia.com/pages/2003-ced.htm>.

The public informational meetings will be informal and interactive, with opportunities for citizen input. Information on current and planned Economic Development initiatives and conditions will be available for citizen review. The priority initiatives approved during the original CEDS in 2003 will be on view. People will have the ability to rank those initiatives. Hand-outs on the CEDS will also be available. The meetings are open for people to come and go as they please during the three hour session at any of the following meetings.
